Remember—In peonies, a high price does not always mean higher quality, but just scarcity (newness, etc.). Roots all healthy, 3-5 bud divisions.

Directions—Plant in full sun, where not too wet, and in humus enriched (manure) soil, with buds two inches under soil.

VERY SPECIAL — SELECTED CROSSES

We have acres of these low-cost, twice-transplanted, healthy, blooming, landscaping peonies, originating from crosses from very best varieties, but which today are not quite good enough to be named, which we offer for the popular modern landscape uses (massing in broad borders or in hedges) for color effects (much better than low bushes, and far cheaper).
